Accession Meeting & Webinar

Video collaboration solutions available with AirePBX Enterprise

With up to 80% of business meetings now including remote participants, more organizations are increasingly relying on video conferencing to improve collaboration and productivity. Companies are looking to update their existing solutions and/or to standardize on newer, more secure, business-class applications. Businesses need solutions that can securely scale to meet all situations while keeping costs to a minimum. Cloud hosted unified communications (UCaaS) and collaboration solutions such as Accession Meeting, a 100% cloud-based conferencing application, enable organizations to significantly lower costs and reduce complexity while improving productivity and the overall user experience. Accession Meeting, based on the industry leading Zoom Enterprise Video Conferencing and Collaboration platform, provides a comprehensive collaboration environment that scales from SMBs to Fortune 500 businesses without the need to install any hardware infrastructure or applications onsite.
