You can finally connect with a simple click of a button to meet online, collaborate and share content, making nTwine Conferencing the leader in ease-of-use. PIN-less entry makes it even easier by eliminating the need to enter any codes because the system recognizes the caller's phone number.

nTwine Conferencing has an online interface, which allows you to schedule and manage telephone conference calls from any Web browser at your convenience, without the assistance of an operator.

Unlike many of the current competitors on the market, PCCW Global's nTwine Conferencing solution is completely customizable for your customers to display their company's logo and color branding prominently throughout the user interface along with their custom greeting and custom URL.

Quality conferencing doesn't have to be expensive. Offer flexible conferencing to your customers for US$15/month per end-user with no extra charges and no hidden fees.
