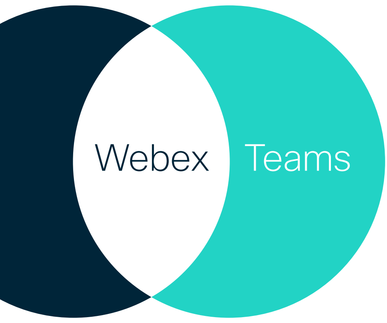
The more intuitive way to work.

Cisco Spark is becoming Cisco Webex Teams.

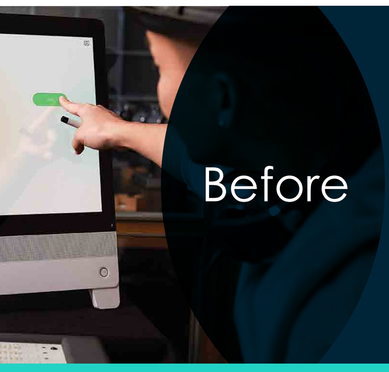


New name. New innovative way to work.

Cisco Spark. It was a nice name. But we realized that Spark and Webex are better together, so Spark is officially becoming part of the Webex family.

That's right, Cisco Spark is now Cisco Webex Teams—a more intuitive name for the same incredible shared virtual workspace experience. And Cisco Webex Teams comes with every Webex solution. One shared platform, one shared UI, and now one shared and trusted name.

So much more than meetings—Webex is unmatched end-to-end collaboration



Before

Everyone has the files they need in whatever format that makes sense. Data is shared easily and securely heading into your brainstorming session. Total access. No information silos. Start and join the meeting with a click, or a voice command—no downloads, dial-ins, or plug-ins. Ready. Set. Collaborate on ideas.

This is what setting up meetings should be.

During

Everyone. Everywhere. On every device. Everything you need. Every experience. Seamless. Crisp audio. Crystal clear video. Cameras automatically framing everyone perfectly. Distracting noises detected and muted—so only what you need to hear is in focus. Share. Discuss. Innovate and disrupt to grow

This is what collaboration should be.

After

Everyone on the project is connected so next steps proceed perfectly. In a shared virtual room, teams draw on an interactive whiteboard. Visibility is optimized: Work progresses, course correction and scope expansion is simplified. Role players pick up their piece of a project where someone else leaves off. Your collaboration tools interact with everyones favorite apps that are already in use. Enterprise-grade security protects people and information. Momentum maintained. Execution. Innovation crosses the finish line—success.

This is what working as a team should be. Intuitive

Your culture of innovation.

Don't just talk about the importance of innovation—inspire it, empower it, bring it to life!
